The police chief was rejuctant to disclose the underlying motive of the watchmen, and maintained at first that he merely wanted "to keep a line on the places and see who patronized them."

The actual task of watching the establishments, he said, was up to the captains of the various precincts in which they located. Police Believe Arrests Have Broken Up Ring of Race Pickpockets.

FORMALLY ACCUSED

Activities of police in trying to break up a ring of pickpockets operating among the crowds going to and coming from the Bowie race track had resulted in eight arrests yesterday, and with three of those arrested formally charged with robbery, they believe they have succeeded in their efforts.

Harry Harris, 32 years old, and Leo Rohan, 29 years old, both saying they were from Butte, Mont., were arrested yesterday and charged with robbery in connection with the theft of a pocket-book containing $250 from S. T. Kimble, instructor at Central High School. Miss Georgiana Kimble, his daughter, who was near him when he was jostled Saturday and relieved of his wallet, identified Harris and Rohan as two men who had been nearby.

Harold Norton, 34 years old, who said he was from Philadelphia, was the third man charged with robbery. When he was arrested police asy that he discarded a pocketbook. According to the police they recovered it and found it to be the property of Joseph Luchs, of 807 Sixth street northwest. Luchs reported that it had contained $5 when stolen from him.

Just before midday, when it looked as if prices would "go through the roof," the financial news tickers printed an item that the Federal Reserve would have an "important statement" at 1 p. m. Many traders, with their nerves worn to a frazzle by the wild markets since election day, became terror-stricken with fear that another official warning against credit inflation was coming, and they nastened to dump stocks overboard. The selling became more general on the heavy week-end profit-taking which followed the news of a special holiday tomorrow.

Two persons were killed in Liverpool. One of them was a sandwich board man whose humble means of livelihood caused him to be blown under a motor truck. The other victim was caught under a falling tree.

Hull also reported two deaths, an aged man struggling homeward through the gale, fell dead from overexertion. A schooligit was killed when a chimney collapsed as the pupils were leaving the classrooms. Bricks and debris showered all of the children, but the others escaped with bruises.

At Edinburgh the barometric pressure was 28.11. This was the lowest on record since 1894.

(Special Correspondent of The Post).

On the Edge of Santa Claus Land, Nov. 23.—For all you ilks back in Washington I have the best news today that I have been able to send since we started on our expedition to find Santa Claus for the readers of The Washington Post.

MRS. MAPY MATHEWS DIFF. on Post.
After a hard day of travel we had pitched camp in the snow in the midst of a herd of reindeer. Every one was sitting around the fire, awed by the Northern Lights, which glowed bril-liantly across the sky above us, when suddenly there appeared before us a little old man, not more than 3 feet tall.

He had a wrinkled face and white, frost-covered whiskers, and it seemed to us that he had appeared from out of the snow. Even our Eskimos were astonished, for they had never seen a dwarf like this man before.

Mrs. Kleinschmidt broke the spell as we gazed at our visitor. "Won't you come up to the fire?" she asked. The little man was not bashful and, to our amazement, he began to talk to us in English. He asked why we had taken the trouble to travel so far North and whether or not we were lost.

Our visitor seemed to think the idea was absurd. He shook his head and we began to fear he thought we were impudent. The captain got out his camera to take a picture of our visitor. "Oh, that is a dandy cameral" exclaimed the dwarf. "Oh, that is a dandy camera!" ex-claimed the dwarf.
"Do you know what a camera is?" asked Mrs. Kleinschmidt.
"Certainly," replied the dwarf. "I make hundreds of them each year for children".

Italian Sculptor Charges Wholesale Antique Frauds

His Replicas of Renaissance Art Sold as Genuine at Fabulous Prices, Asserts Old Artist-Received Mere Pittance-Sues for Half Million Lire.

Rome, Nov. 23 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Two tiny rooms, dustladen, redolent of want, received hurrying visitors today as the world of modern art focused its interest on the workshop of Alcee Dossena, carver of wood and stone. For if the charges brought by Alcee against various Italian art dealers are true, that same world of art has been bilked beyond the most skeptical critic's bitterest fancies.

Lack of Discipline Told.

The affidavit of Walcott, a British subject, and testimony from Johnstone, manager of an oil leasehold in Trinidad, referred to a seeming lack of skill and direction in the efforts of officers and crew in the last few hours before the ship sank.

Walcott stated that about eight hours before the liner went down, he overheard a steward and a petty officer talking just outside the door of his cabin.

"Aren't you going down to bail?" Walcott said he overheard the petty officer ask the steward.

"Oh, it's no use," he said the steward replied.

"Oh, it's no use," he said the steward replied.

Later, when passengers appeared on deck in life belts, Walcott stated, one of the petty officers said: "What are you wearing life belts for? There's no danger. You'll only upset the other passengers."

Walcott, in his affidavit, and Johnstone, on the stand, said that the lifeboats, filled with women and children, were lowered without anybody in charge to navigate them properly.

"They simply huddled the women and children into the first boats, with nobody to manage the boats," Johnstone said

HUNGARIAN LEADERS DECLARE OTTO KING

Legitimist Proclamation Made in Face of Warning by Premier Bethlen.

ALBRECHT GROUP ACTIVE

Budapest, Hungary, Nov. 23 (A.P.). Agitation to place a king on the vacant throne of Hungary has been stimulated rather than quieted by a warning speech of Count Stephen Bethlen, premier, last night, that such propa-ganda endangered international relations and interfered with more importions and interfered with more imporctant tasks facing the government.

t. The Legitimist party, led by the venerable statesman, Count Apponyl, today proclaimed that since November 20 the Archduke Otto, son of Empress Zita, has been King of Hungary. The party declares that under the immemorable rule of the ancient Hapsburg dynassy, the elder living mafe descendant of the dead emperor becomes king automatically when he becomes it years of age. The party therefore has sent instructions to all Legitimist centers to exhibit the photograph of Otto as King of Hungary under the title of Otto II.

Bethlen Warns of Coup.

The Legitimists insist that Otto at any time may assert his right to the throne. To prevent a possible enthronement by coup d'etat, Count Bethlen sent a letter to Count Apponyi warning him as leader of the Legitimists that the government would take punitive measures under the constitution against those who persisted in a campaign to gain the throne for Otto. Bethlen is known to favor the claims of the Archduke Albrecht.

The Legitimiste were engered when claims of the Archduke Albrecht.

The Legitimists were angered when they learned today that the premier at a banquet last night had spoken strongly against any effort to award the throne to Otto. Baron Kray, vice president of the Legitimist party, said today that its followers would continue to campeign in favor of Otto by all legal means.

to campaign in favor of Otto by all legal means.
Legitimist leaders had issued a thousand invitations for a gala banquet the other night in honor of the sixteenth birthday of Otto. On that occasion Count Appony constantly referred to the boy as "our king" and each guest received a napkin embroidered with the royal coat of arms of Hungary with the inscription "King Otto II" beneath.

People Seem Divided

The Hungarian people appear to be divided into at least four groups. One wants Otto, another Albrecht, a third wants Otto, another Albrecht, a third favors the selection of a foreign prince such as a younger son of the King of England, while the fourth consists of extremists who would like to abolish the monarchical form of government altogather. There are even those who say that Count Bethlen, like Ahmed Zogu in Albania, and Riza Khan in Persia, seeks the kingly crown for himself, but this is not generally accepted. The throne of Hungary has been vacent since the abdication in 1919 of the late King Charles. Admiral Nicholas Horthy has served as regent of the kingdom since his election on March

TWO GREAT PEACE STEPS.

It does not appear that the Senate will have difficulty in dealing concurrently with the two proposals in which the public is most interested—the Kellogg treaty and the cruiser bill. Both call for prompt action.

The country would be disappointed if the Senate should unduly prolong debate on the Kellogg treaty or attempt to load it down with reservations. It should be approved as it stands, and the more promptly it is approved the more effective will be the process of bringing all nations within its operation. About 60 nations have signified their willingness to adhere to the treaty, and American public sentiment is practically unanimous in supporting it. Throughout the recent keenly partisan campaign the Kellogg treaty was exempt from partisan attack. If it was not specifically indorsed by political opponents of the present administration, it received silent approval, and there is no indication that Democratic senators are inclined to obstruct it, on partisan or any other grounds. The naval bill should not be delayed. The Senate's inaction at the last session has already wasted six months during which the vessels might have moved toward construction. As five cruisers are to be laid down annually, it will be three years at best before the last will be begun, and six years before they can be completed. By that time several existing cruisers will be obsolete, while foreign navies will have been reinforced with cruisers now building. Great disparity of naval strength is a danger, because it encourages foreign belligerents to make aggression against undefended neutral commerce. American merchant ships, crews and passengers will be endangered in the event of a foreign war occurring before the United States has provided strong naval defenses. With those defenses provided, foreign belligerents, no matter how hard-pressed, would think twice before antagonizing the United States. Thus a moderate but adequate provision of defense is a discourager of war, if not an absolute guarantee against entanglement in a war between other

The Senate can consider the Kellogg treaty and the cruiser bill at the same time. The cruiser bill is on the calendar; the treaty comes up whenever the Senate wishes to bring it up. No domestic legislation takes precedence of these measures in importance or urgency. Americans, looking to the future, and welcoming world cooperation in the attempt to prevent war, are anxious that the Senate shall deal with national safety and peace in a statesmanlike manner by approving the Kellogg treaty and passing the cruiser bill. With these provisions made, the United States will be promoting world peace and taking reasonable steps to avoid becoming entangled in foreign war.

"STOP LIGHT" ROBBERS.

A year ago there occurred a series of "stop light" robberies, the outbreak ending abruptly when a detective seized a man in the act of perpetrating one of the crimes. The robber's method was this: He would wait until an automoble was halted by a red traffic signal. jump on the running board and show a pistol, taimly enter the machine and order the driver woceed to an out-of-the-way spot, where he relieved the driver of his valuables.

Thursday afternoon a "stop light" robber again made an appearance. At Eighteenth street and Massachusetts avenue he hopped aboard a machine halted by the red light and ordered the driver to proceed to the H Street Viaduct, where he relieved him of his cash and jewelry. It was an easy and successful job, so much so that this criminal undoubtedly will be encouraged to repeat the offense and others may be encouraged to emulate him. The Police Department should act quickly and vicorously in stamping out what may be a new epidemic of "stop light" robberies. There are many more traffic light installations In Washington streets than there were a year Each additional automatic traffic signal creates an aditional vantage point from which

"stop light" robbers can work, and it is advisable to throw the fear of the law into the hearts of such criminals immediately.

THE INFLATED MARKET.

Yesterday's near 7,000,000 share day established a new stock exchange record. Today, for the first Saturday since last spring, doors of the stock exchange will remain closed. Last spring extra holidays were declared by the board of governors of the exchange so that harassed and overworked brokers and clerical staffs would have a chance to catch up with their work. Today's closing was made necessary for the same reason, in addition to which it may be considered a gesture toward clamping the lid upon the orgy of reckless speculation that has developed.

There is no justification for the frenzy of trading that the last few weeks has witnessed. The United States is prosperous. Indications point toward continued good times. But the stock market has absurdly discounted prosperity in many industries, and unless some way can be devised to check excessive speculation the market may collapse to such an ex tent as to cause real economic distress.

Many speculators are dealing in stocks for the first time in their lives. Few of them have the slightest conception of what the market is or how it works. Most of them never have seen a bearish market, and those who have, in the excitement of the moment, have forgotten it. All of them seem to labor under the delusion that it is possible to create wealth by watching the posting of security prices upon a blackboard and giving, from time to time, orders to buy or sell. They do not realize that the present peaks to which securities have advanced are artificial and must, eventually, seek a lower level upon which they can justify themselves by earnings.

It may be that today's stock exchange holiday will bring about sober reflection and that Monday's market will be more in reason. situation fraught with danger has developed. There can be no doubt that thousands of buyers of stocks are in for serious losses.

ILLNESS OF KING GEORGE.

The trying climate of London has brought illness to many notable men during the last few weeks, and has now superinduced a serious attack upon the life of King George V. He is suffering from a congestion of one lung-a condition which holds dreadful possibilities on account of his susceptibility to lung troubles and his not too robust constitution. The orief bulletins from Buckingham Palace are not reassuring, although the king's illness is not supposed to have reached a critical stage.

When the life of the occupant of the British throne is in question the whole world turns anxiously for news from the bedside. In King George's case the anxlety is inspired by affection at home and universal respect abroad. Through the greatest crisis in England's long history he played a king's part like a king; giving hope and courage to millions of his subjects in the darkest hours. When other monarchs lost their crowns he strengthened the bonds that unite his house with the people. He has their prayers now.

FOREST RESTORATION.

Seventeen years of what is termed remarkable advancement in protection of national forests still leaves millions of acres unprotected and a tremendous annual loss from forest fires, a report of the Department of Agriculture shows. The Federal cooperative program has been extended to 38 States having important wooded areas, and 200,000,000 of the 381,000,000 acres of State and private forest land has been given fire protection. Annual expenditures by the States for this purpose have increased from a few thousand dollars to $2,000,000 and private owners have increased their outlay proportionately. The Federal budget furnishes a $1,200,000 forest

In spite of these expenditures 2,784,450 acres of protected forest were burned over last year, causing damage estimated at $4,297,400. This represents a reduction from 4,754,580 acres burned over in 1926, with estimated damages of $15,048,260. However, this showmore than offset by an increase from 19,561,480 to 35,561,480 acres of unprotected land burned over. Loss from fires on this class of land last year totaled more than $29,-

On the whole, the administration is becoming more efficient and losses from forest fires are being reduced in spite of the fact that fire hazards have been tremendously increased with the building of highways into wooded areas. The figures quoted indicate that there is much yet to be done, not only in prevention and fighting of fires, but in replanting, in educational work and in training for forest management. The fact that the States are rapidly developing forest tree nurseries and that millions of trees are being distributed annually to private owners indicate new interest in forest rehabilitation.

A new element has been injected into the forest preservation issue within the last few years. The country long ago recognized the importance of conserving its timber supply and keeping its watersheds covered with vegeta-With the development of motor tion. transportation the forests have become the most popular playgrounds in many sections. Thousands go to the wilds to spend vacations and on holidays the woods are crowded with This gives new importance to the forests, but brings increased exposure to fires. It will, therefore, be necessary for the Forest Service to add to its protective programs from year to year, to increase its quotas for replacement of trees and to redouble its efforts to educate the public in principles of forest preservation.

MODERNIZING FARMING.

While politicians are discussing an extra ession of Congress to enact farm relief legislation there are some agencies within the industry itself at work to improve the status o agriculture. There is no question that relief is needed through legislation, but the fundamental relief which will stabilize agriculture on a par with the factory will come from economic adjustments on the farm.

In an address before the Land Grant Colleges and Universities in Washington recently Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils of the Department of Agriculture, pointed out that the problem of farm surplus is gradually being solved by finding new uses for agricultural products. search experts are attacking the problem by preserving surplus products for future use; by converting products in such manner that they may be taken out of the field of unsuccessfu competition, and by adapting farm products to other uses than as food. Residues and surplus of the corn crop are being manufactured into such products as starch, glucose, ethyl alcohol and acetone with increasing success. Manufacture of sugar-cane bagasse into fiber board is another example of converting waste products into articles of commercial value on a large scale. The farm in dustry is beginning to learn what the packers found out a few decades ago. The United States has an annual waste of 100,000,000 tons of cornstalks, 115,000,000 tons of cereal straw and similar products making a total of 260,000,000 tons for which some commercial use will undoubtedly be found.

Manufacturing industries could never on erate with such a tremendous annual waste While the general plea for relief is being sent up to Congress, thousands of prosperous farms in the country are providing their own relief through the application of business methods Whatever help Congress is to agriculture. able to give will only put the farmer in a position where he is able to make a success of his own business. The fundamental solution must come through efficient methods, use of waste and surplus products, cooperative marketing, and other measures which will make a modern business of farming.

INDUSTRIAL PEACE.

Secretary of Labor Davis, speaking before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in New Orleans, calls attention to the factors that have brought about industrial peace. In the comparatively short period since he took office, strikes have dwindled to the lowest number recorded since the United States became a great industrial coun try. The disturbances following the war have all disappeared. During the war labor had become habituated to many enjoyments once regarded as the luxuries of the well-to-do. It declined to give these up without a struggle. Strikes of protest arose in the packing industry, in textiles, in mining, among the marine workers, in the railroad shops, and in the building trades. A great part of American industry was in turmoll. In less than eight years this state of affairs has been succeeded by the most widely prevalent era of good feeling that American industry has ever known Secretary Davis reviews the forces that have brought about peace in industry. First of all, there has been a general rise in business intelligence. Worker and employer alike have a clearer view of the delicate interlocking of their interests and what these interests suffer from the disturbance of a strike. The same intelligence made a great economic discovery. That is that prosperity is not, as was once supposed, created by the buying of a wealthy class. It is the product of the masses, since workers are the most numerous buyers in the market and will buy anything the market affords if enabled to do so. Americans have discovered that a liberal wage is the very life of business, and not its ruin.

In return for this liberal wage, labor has discarded one of its ancient theories, that of curtailing production, in the fear that the worker might be working himself out of his job. For full pay the worker now is willing to produce to the utmost; and because of his higher pay he is less and less willing to strike. In his better wage he has too much to lose.

A leading agency in quickening the business intelligence that now conserves industrial peace has been a capable Secretary of Labor In times of unrest it is sometimes argued that there should be at the head of the Department of Labor a strong-arm man willing to club the contentious parties into agreement. Mr Davis, on the contrary, has proved the merits of persuasion. He has not waited for strikes before urging a spirit of reasonableness and conciliation; he has everlastingly preached cooperation, and has helped to create what others would only advocate.

Those who are sparing Mr. Hoover some arduous labor by shaping his Cabinet for him in advance might well include for the Department of Labor the man at the head of it now. The conservation of prosperity calls for the continued service of James J. Davis in the post where he has been the cordial cooperation of labor and capital.

WAR ON WHITE PLAGUE.

The announcement of Dr. Louis I. Dublin at a New York tuberculosis conference that elimination of the "great white plague" from the list of ills afflicting mankind is in sight, will be received as a message of hope through out the world. Dr. Dublin told 500 health and welfare workers that "tuberculosis is rapidly being eliminated as a factor in mortality in the United States." The year 1928 will show the lowest death rate on record, probably not more than 70 per 1,000 of population, which will be 7 per cent less than the figure for last year. So striking is the fact of this declining tendency that there are sober-minded men who talk in terms of the practical elimination of tuberculosis as an important cause of death in the next 10 or 15 years.

It is a little too Utopian to expect the country to be rid of tuberculosis within 15 years, but the fact remains that efforts of medical science in combating tuberculosis in this country have been remarkably successful, especially from the standpoint of prevention. Thirty years ago this disease held first place among the causes of death. This year 140,000 persons are alive and well in the United States who would have died from tuberculosis under former conditions. The death rate is only one-third as great as it was 30 years ago.

Aside from the saving of life, the fight against tuberculosis is improving living conditions in this country. The disease was formerly rated as a strong factor in producing poverty and misery. Thousands of American families have been lifted from despair and suffering, and many thousands more have been saved from those conditions by preventive measures

Final eradication of the disease will depend upon future activities for its prevention and cure. There should be acceleration rather than slackening in the tuberculosis war, with cooperation from every part of the world. Each section must do its part in establishing homes providing treatment, and preventing spread of the disease. The immediate contribution which Washington should make to the cam paign is the full-time school for tuberculous children, which has been given approval of the Board of Education. If Congress can be made to realize the importance of this measure it will provide funds for establishment and maintenance of the school at its coming session.

Farm Relief.

To the Editor of The Post-Sir: Vould it not be wise in President-elect Hoover to appoint a commission composed of the best and wisest of those interested in agriculture and in business to make a complete study of the farm situation, to report next December rather than to call an early special session of Congress to consider farm relief they need, or the form such relief should take.

It is a very grave question, and one which may involve a close study as to the power of Congress to act in the matter in any direction, other than uch relief as might be given through a tariff act. An expenditure of money out of the Treasury for such purpose may well be questioned on constitutional grounds. I know that question was once raised as to the right of Congress to appropriate money in the way of pensions, but it never reached the courts. It is true the money in the Treasury is the people's money, and that Congress is the agent of the people to handle and disburse that money but Congress can disburse only under

DATES FROM MAGI.

Ras Taffari Makonnen, regent and crown prince of Abyssinia, was proclaimed emperor at his capital, Adis Abeba, October 7. The whole story of the event begins with the death of the celebrated Emperor Menelik in 1913, says L'Europe Nouvelle.

Menelik's successor was his grandson Lij Yasu, whose abdication in 1916 was brought about as a result of his Mohammedan tendencies. His aunt, Menelik's daughter, Zeoditu, then be-

The interviewer was given that ad-vice as the best way to locate Theodore Roberts amid the gloom of interior sets at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

The advice was not farfetched. The The advice was not farfetched. The famous Roberts' cigar aroma is a sasily identified as a perfumery shop. Once, so the story goes, the "grand old man of the screen" had been offered a role at one of the studios where amoking was forbidden by the fire underwriters. A special dispensation had to be secured before Roberts would accept the role.

Whether true or not, the story seems reasonable. Roberts, who was working in John Gilbert's new starring picture, "The Masks of the Devil," now playing at Loew's Palace, was sitting in a highbacked chair awaiting the call of Director Victor Seastrom to step before the camera.

He was smoking, of course.
"Why," asked the interviewer, "did you return to the screen?"
"I never wanted to retire in the first place, but I got slek and had to quit for a while. Now I'm nearly well again and I'm coming back.

"Besides," he added, "I wanted to harbor and drive in to work every day."

Roberts was a sea captain at the age of 21. Now, just 67 years old, he still has his master's license and can navigate a ship as well as any one.

"Mr. Roberts," asked the interviewer, "how do you keep so young"?

"By doing precisely what I please."
Roberts said. Smoking just as many cigars as I can and keeping in the company of young people."

Charlie Chaplin worked as an extra in Norma Talmadge's latest picture, "The Woman Disputed," now playing at Loew's Columbia. And the world's most famous screen comedian received the same pay of the other extras.

One day when Henry King and Sam One day when Henry King and Sam Taylor were directing a scene in the story of love and war, several extras-were instructed to stand in doorways and peer out at Miss Talmadge, in the role of a girl of the streets, as she passed. King a nated a little man in a big coat for one of the close-ups— and none of the extras answered the requirements.

Chaplin, who he ppened to be visiting the Talmadge set at the United Artists studio that day, was jokingly asked by King if he wished to make a few extra dollars.

"Certainly!" replied Charlie. "Get me an overcoat and I'll do the scene with Norma."
Miss Talmadge was not told, and when the cameras followed her as she walked along the street, peering into the leering faces of various men, she received the shock of her life when she discovered one of them to be Charlie

At the end of the scene Mr. Chaplin said:
"Where's my $7.50?"

WASHINGTON IS CREDITED WITH ONE MORE STAR

Medicine's loss is the screen's gain, in the case of Alan Hale.

For Hale, who has been prominently identified with motion pictures as actor, director and scenarist for the past ten years, had completed three years of a medical course at Pittsburgh before the fascination of the theatrical world caused him to abandon a career as a doctor for that of an actor. octor for that of an actor doctor for that of an actor.

Hale's most recent screen appearance is in support of Colleen Moore in "Oh Kay!" an adaptation of the sparkling musical comedy, now showing at the Earle Theater.

first gained fame in villainous characters. His heavy portrayal in "The Covered Wagon" is regarded as one of the most finished performances of the type the screen has known.

Hale was born in this city and lived in Newburgh, N. Y.; Philadelphia and Pittsburgh during his childhood. When he decided to leave medicine for drama he went to New York and studied for opera. He was quite successful in a brief stage career, but his voice was impaired by powder smoke during a presentation representing the Revolutionary War, and he entered pictures with the Lubin Co. in New York.

Hale wrote scenarios as well as acted during this period, finally going to Hollywood, where he gained prominence in such pictures as "The Four Horsemen," "Robin Hood" and "The Dictator."

For two years he was a director, and upon his return to the screen ap-peared in comedy roles, making an un-usual hit in "Skyscraper."

FORMER LOCAL STOCK STAR A CROOK EXPERT

Irving Cummings, Fox film director, who is personally known to many Washingtonians, has written stories for the screen, has produced stories, has directed them and has acted in them. Aside from that he has made a long study of lighting effects, is an expert cameraman and has cut and titled many pictures—in brief, he has made a comprehensive study of all departments of motion picture production.

many pictures—in brief, he has made a comprehensive study of all departments of motion picture production.

Perhaps that is why he is said to be so successful in combining art with the box office, which is something few directors have done.

Some years back Cummings made a picture called "Port of Missing Girls." Recently he decided to make a "crook" picture, despite the fact that at the time the market was flooded with pictures with an underworld motif.

He sold the idea to William Fox on the basis that he could, and would, make a "different" underworld picture. If you saw "Dressed to Kill" you know he did. He made it in defiance of the accepted conventions.

Cummings again defled convention by directing another crook story, usually a dangerous follow-up.

This time he produced "Romance of the Underworld," based on Paul Armstrong's stage success of a decade ago, brought up to date. Those in the know say he has surpassed "Dressed to Kill," which is a large order.

In "Romance of the Underworld" Mary Astor plays the leading feminine role with Ben Bard, Robert Elliott, Helen Lynch and Oscar Apfel in the cast. The film is now being shown at the Fox Theater.

Plays Lead.

Lane, who played the heroine in Fred Thomson's "Jesse James," was signed last week to the principal feminine role in the Zanc Grey-Jack Hoit nicture, "Sunset Pass." Miss Lane is it present working in Adolphe Menjou's Marquis Preferred."

Market Fails to Share in Feverish Stock Trading-Convertibles Strong.

COPPERS ARE FEATURE

New York, Nov. 23 (A.P.).-Price trends in the bond market today followed those of stocks up the hill and the m, but the market again failed to share in the frenzied trading which lifted stock and curb market sales to new high totals. A few we weithbre new high totals. A few convertibles, pushed up to new peak prices, held their gains, but numerous other issues yielded to profit taking and closed -fractionally lower. Total sales were $8,723,000. The market will be closed fractionally lower. Total sales were $8.723,000. The market will be closed tomorrow.

Andes Copper 7s again supplied the feature of the session, soaring 11 points to a new high at 233 and recovering 7½ points of the loss sustained in a slump to 220½. Anaconda Copper 7s also touched a new high at 183½, but closed with a net loss of more than a point. Kayser & Co. 5½s. Colon Oil 6s, Wickwire Spencer Steel first 7s, Pathe Exchange 7s and one or two others similarly were lifted into new high territory on buying influenced by the strength of stocks, but most of them yielded a point or so before the close.

Sugars showed group strength, although gains were small, on buying influenced by improved earnings reports. Oils were in demand early in the session, but sold down before the close. Utilities were in fair demand, with Public Service of New Jersey 4½s, which closed fractionally higher, attracting most buying.

Liquid Carbonic 7s showed little of their recent strength, closing off 7 points in light trading. Dodge Brothers 6s, United Drug of Delaware Sa and General Motors acceptance 6s also were under pressure.

Rails were irregular. Austin & Northwestern 5s advanced about 3 points to a new high at 102% and Canadian Pacific 4s, St. Paul 5s, Pennsylvania 5s, Nickel Plate 5½s and a few others made smaller gains. Weak spots included Erie 5s, Seaboard Air Line 5s, Boston & Maine 5s and New Haven 4½s.

Haven 4½s.

The foreign list was also irregular, with the recently strong Italian Industrials yielding 1 to 3 points on profit faking. U. S. Government bonds were inclined to heaviness.

Volume of Week's Business.

The volume of business during the week ended November 17, as measured by check payments, was larger than in the preceding week, but showed a fractional recession from the corresponding period of last year, according to a summary of the business situation issued yesterday by the Department of Commerce.

Prices for bonds showed no change from the previous week, but were lower than a year ago. Loans and discounts of Federal Reserve member banks were smaller than in the previous week, but were higher than last year. Call money rates averaged lower than in the pre-

HARRISON ELECTED BY RESERVE BANK

Succeeds Benjamin Strong as Governor of New York Branch.

LONG A DEPUTY THERE

New York, Nov. 23 (A.P.).—George L. Harrison, deputy governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, today was elected governor, to succeed the late Benjamin Strong.

Mr. Harrison has been in charge of relations with foreign banks and gold operations. Like that of Go. Strong, who died about a month ago, Mr Harrison's association with the Federal Reserve System dates back to its organization in 1914. He served first as assistant general counsel, later as general istant general counsel, later as general ounsel, and since 1920 has held the office of deputy governor of the New York bank. He formerly was in charge of cash and collection functions

The new governor was appointed at yesterday's meeting of the board of directors, appointment of the officers of Federal Reserve Banks being within the province of their respective boards.

Mr. Harrison was bern in San Francisco on January 26, 1887. He was educated in Western High School at Washington, D. C., and was graduated from Yale University in 1910 and Harvard Law School in 1913. For a year he was legal secretary to Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, then was appointed assistant counsel of the Federal Reserve Board.

In 1918, Mr, Harrison served overseas as an officer of the American Red Cross and upon his return in 1919, became general counsel for the Federal Reserve Board. Since his appointment as a deputy governor in 1920, he has served as Secretary to the Conference of Governors of all the Federal Reserve Banks which meets semiannually in

Banks which meets semiannually in

A large proportion of his time in recent years has been devoted to the bank's relations with foreign banks of issue through extension of credits, and he has made a number of trips abroad in this connection.

HILE major teams throughout the East are clashing in important sectional and intersectional games, interest among Washington fans will center in the game today at American League Park at 2:30 o'clock, between Maryland and Washington and Lee. As Maryland rose to unexpected heights in its victory over Yale three weeks ago and followed with a decisive triumph over Virginia, interest in the outcome of today's clash in unbounded. It will be the only local game with the exception of the Gallaudet-Bridgewater contest at Kendall Green.

Maryland faces in Washington and Lee its pet jinx. The Generals have won all of the last four battles between the two institutions, but despite this fact the Old Liners enter the game as the favorite to win today as a result of more impressive past performances. The scason's records of the two teams follow:

precedent might be advanced in favor of a sweeping Georgetown win this afternoon. The tradi-tional criterion of comparative performances against mutual opponents is one that must be taken into consideration in spite of the fact that it is discredited every week in this era of football iconcolasm. New York U. and West Virginia both beat Fordham, only to fall subsequently before Georgetown.

The Blue and Gray, furthermore, has ost but one out of eight games. Careegle being responsible for that single ectback, whereas the Marcon has dropped four decisions in eight trials. negie being responsible for that single setback, whereas the Maroon has dropped four decisions in eight trials.

And yet the law of diminishing returns may operate against Georgetown today. A team may go on pilling up victories week after week, but the tide is almost sure to turn sooner or later and parry out a shattered record on the ebb. In other words, it is sometimes a handicap to be an overwhelming favorite.

Maryland's student body, led by the Oid Line Band, will be out in full force for the game, while a large number of the Washington and Lee students, also with their musical organization, will be on hand to cheer on the Generals.

As the game will be the only one of note in this section today, one of the largest crows of the season seems certain to be in Griffith Stadium when the first whistle blows. There are lots of fans who want to see the team which beat Yale and to watch Snyder, who ran wild against the Eli Eleven as well as other elevens this year.

There should be plenty to interest the fans both on and off the field.

That is the handicap under which Georgetown is laboring today. With little to gain and a great deal to lose, the Hillitoppers will enter the Harlem Stadium this afternoon in a disadvantageous frame of mind.

There is ample justification for Fordham's choice of the air as its attacking medium in the experience of other Georgetown adversaries. Investigation of the offensive tactics used against the Hillitoppers in the past four years reveals that the overhead attack brought the best results.

If Fordham's air attack falls, all will be lost, for the Maroons are outclassed in the line. The most that can be extended to which the defeat of Wisconsin by Minnesota the line of the hillitops-Ohio State game would decide the champlonship.

The heavy training grind was over today, and the last invasion of the season was on. Minnesota was at Madison, confident of taking the measure of the Badgers and scrambling the title race; Dartmouth was at Northwestern; Iowa was at Michigan; Ohio State limbered up at Illinois and Indiana's redicad Giants were en route to Purdue. A record attendance, for one day's big ten football card was in prospect tomorrow. More than 220,000 were expected to watch the five games.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 23 (A.P.).—
Like water in a boiler gauge, blood pressures rose all over Pittsburgh tonight as the rabid devotees of King Football gathered to predict with appropriate gestures what would happen tomorrow, when the power and punch of New York University collides with the hitherto unstoppable speed and versatility of Carnegle Tech.

In hotel lobbies and on street corners knots of pigskin worshippers fought out the battle that two of the greatest teams in the East—and possibly in the Nation—will wage before 40,000 spectators on Forbes Field. In the balance hung an invitation to compete against the cream of the West in the annual Tournament of Roses game at Pasadena, Calif. The preponderance of arm-swinging and the sentiment of the general public was reflected in the wagering, which made the Skibos of Carnegte a 10-to-7 favorite.

The violent Violets of New York, headed by Ken Strong, highest scoring back in the country, and with a line bolstered by such pugnacious giant tackles as "Ai" Lassman, former intercollegiate boxing champion, and the present title-holder, Galahad Grant, were in perfect trim.

in a betting way, but nobody seems to know why. It can be traced only to the fact that most Yale men are demanding odds of 6 to 5 or keeping a rubber band about their bills. That defeat by Princeton a week ago and the promised absence from most of the game of Garvey, Decker and Ellis have developed pessimistic feelings.
Everybody is hopeful but nobody is confident when the question of the probable result is raised. The opinions of some of the coaches were sought but a shake of the head was the only answer. Nobody cared to make a prediction on a game which is such a toss-up.

Harvard has a sturdy defense. Harvard has a sturdy defense. Even the four magicians of Pennsylvania, with a varied and driving attack, would not have scored against the Crimson except for that damaging fumble and ever more damaging penalty in the first minute of play. It should be much easier to stop Yale's one man offense as exposed in the Princeton game than that fourhanded attack put on by the Quakers.

If this turns out to be true, the result will hang on whether or not Harvard can break down the Yale de-

Big Alabama Team Wins By Rally

Fountain Ties Score for Tech With 80-Yard Gallop.

2 Sustained Marches Net Touchdowns in Final Quarters.

By GARRETT WATERS (Staff Correspondent of The Post).

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 23.—The brand of football that McKinley Tech High School played to win the scholastic championship of Wash-ington proved inferior to the bruising style of play that has kept the record of the Tuscaloosa High Team unsulfied for four seasons, and the Alabama chamons added Tech to the list of their in pions added Tech to the list of their intersectional victims by a 19-to-6 score today as 10,000 persons witnessed a schoolboy gridiron classic.

Tech was unequal to the task of checking the sensational record of the heavy Tuscaloosa team but shared mightlip in the glory of the game by holding the Tuscaloosans to the closest score that team has experienced in four years, while an amazed throng that had expected the Alabamans to run wild against the Washington opposition was ready to concede at the finish that Tech was a great team, even in defeat.

Outweighed in almost every position, Tech was able to make a gallant right of the contest and early amazed fight of the contest and early amazed the gathering when Holmes Fountain broke away for an 80-yard dash to a touchdown to the the score at 6-6 in the second period. The heavy Tuscaloosans were held even in that first half, but in the final periods asserted the power that has stamped them the outstanding scholastic team in the South, and with two sustained cirves led by the brilliant Holley, trampled over and around the Tech defense to score a touchdown in both the third chdown in both the third and final quarters

The turning point of the contest was a fumble by Goss, Tech full back, on his own 40-yard line in the third quarter with the score tied and Holly, Cochrane and Hughts plowed the remaining distance, aided by a short pass, for what proved the deciding touch-down.

an 80-yard drive in the second period, with Holley taking the ball on an end frun for 18 yards on the final play. Another sustained drive gave Tusscore. Drissel missed the kick for ex-tra point.

Tech's passing game, with its famous long heaves by Drissel, flashed at times, but was inconsistent against the bril-liant Tuscalossa secondary defense.

FIRST QUARTER.

Cole, of Tech, kicked to Campbell on the season has lacked finish and a scoring punch
Yale comes up to this game thrice beaten by the Army, Maryland and Princeton. Harvard comes up to the twice beaten by the Army and Pennsylvania and a tie with Holy Cross. Neither team, then, has anything to boast about but tomorrow is another day with so much at stake that one or the other or even both may rise to unnatural heights. In any case it will be a good fight.

Since 1875 Yale has won 27 games to 13 for Harvard but since 1911, the Crimson has won 9 to only 4 for the Blue with 1 a tie and 2 not played in the war years. The 14 to 0 victory of Harvard last season was the first, however, in four years.

SECOND QUARTER. .

Tuscalosa's line held and Drissel punted poorly to the sidelines. The first Tuscalosa pass, Holley to Bagwell, falled, and Holley punted from his 25-yard line to Florance in midfield. Florance plunged 7 yards and Fountain made first down on a run around right end. Drissel punted for a touchback.

A 28-yard pass from Campbell to Holley was completed and another pass from Holley to Campbell made 9 yards. Cochrane plunged for the first down. Runs by Holley, Coch-rane and Hughes made another first down on Tech's 28-yard line.

HoMey and Cochrane carried through for another first down to Tech's 18-yard line. Holley then ran around end for the remaining distance for a touchdown. It was the end of a spectacular drive, which saw the Tuscaloosa Team advance from its 20-yard line to Tech's goal.

Fountain brought the gathering to its feet a moment later after kick-off by going through tackle from the 20-yard line and reversing the field for a run of 80 yards for a touchdown. Perfect interference by Florance, Drissel and Goss aided Fountain in his journey Drissel missed the kick for the extra point.

Craigmyle Overconfident in Stretch Run of Feature.

All 7 Choices Beaten; Mordine Outgames Field in Fourth.

Special to The Washington Post.

B OWIE RACE TRACK, Nov. 23. The Audley Farm's good filly, Sister Ship, annexed today's feature race, the Meadows Handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, for filles and marks, while and the statement of the s

A driving finish came with the running of the first race when the Nevada Stock Farm's 2-year-old Balzar beat the Audley Farm's Erin Queen out a head. Balzar led his field from the break and in the early stages carried Domineer along at a rapid pace.

Entering the home stretch the latter began to shorten his stride and when the real issue came dropped out of contention. In the final furiong Erin Queen closed in resolute fashion and the finish found her catching the winner at every stride. Transit, from the Whitney Stable, was third, right on top of the leaders. She was only beaten half a length for the place.

Clatter was an easy winner in the second race when she galloped home in front of the big band of 2-year-olds that went to the post in that event. Fields had the mount and he was off with the front rank when the barrier was sprung. In the run down the back stretch Clatter was in close pursuit of Rapidity who was out in front setting a rapid pace. Entering the home stretch Clatter raced past the leader and in the final furlong drew away, until she had an advantage of three lengths passing the winning lengths passing the winning

He then went to the outside of the leaders and at the finish closed in resolute fashion to finish second, a length in front of Royal Love, who beat Emplette a like distance for third money. Kindling refused to leave the stalls and was left at the post.

Eifin Star was an easy winner in the third event, a dash of a mile and a sixteenth, under claiming conditions. He was ridden by F. Mann, and won in a canter after being messed about in the early stage. Elfin Star broke well but was taken up in the run to the first turn and on the back stretch dropped back to fourth place.

Rounding the far turn Mann took Elfin Star to the outside and circling the leaders, went to the front with a rush and in the final front with a rush and in the final furlong drew away at his leisure to win by three lengths. A stirring finish came with the run ning of the fourth race when Mordine, The Heathen, Candy Pig and Lady Marie fought it out all through the home stretch and passed the finishing mark in a compact bunch. Mordine was the winner, when he outgamed

When the start finally came The furlong. Rounding the far turn Mordine moved up and passed the pacemaker and for the remainder of the trip remained in front. The Heathen hung on with more courage than he usually displays under punshment.

Lady Marie, after a very slow beginning and overcoming a lot of interference, closed a big gap and at the end was going the strongest.

Fair Rowena, a 5-to-1 shot, won the seventh race by a nose from Northland

Under Leonard's hard urging, Fair Röwena stood the drive game-ly and lasted to win by a whisker. Cross Word was third, four lengths behind. Billy Warren, the public choice, was never a factor, and fin-ished fourth, far back.

The good gelding, Brahman, at 5 to 1, won the sixth race, at a mile and an eighth, for B. Long, running in his best fashion, to beat out Loreen, a field horse, by a half length. Spring, another field horse, lost the place by a head, beating out Omar's double, the favorite, in a blanket finish for the place position.

place position.

Loreen and Fedonna set the early pace, but the latter curied up before the stretch was reached, and Brahman, always a forward contender, took command in the final run, finishing with a burst of speed that Loreen, Spring and Omar's Double were unable to match.

OLLYER'S COMMENT

LYDE VAN DUSEN. Homecoming week for LYDE VAN DUSEN. Homecoming week for the native turfmen and what would be finer than to have the Man o' War gelding come down in front to the cheers of the multitude at Churchill Downs today. I would advise you to get yours early as there will be nothing to be had by noon. Taking a slant from the gelding's race in the Breeder's Futurity at Lexington, it looks like it is all over but the shouting. WINDY CITY finished in front of Van but that makes no never mind, as Sophie Glutz used to say. All this prattle is anent the winner of the sixth race at Churchill Downs, where the nags will hold sway for several days before migrating to Southern cellmes.

The Peabody Stable has a good chance to score a double with MINO in the third race and MARTIE FLYNN and FLAT IRON in the fifth, the Seelbach

Down at Bowie Monsieur O'Hara is staging the biggest show of his life—the $30,000 Gadsden D. Bryan Memorial Handicap. Twenty have been named and it looks like every good 3-year-old and older horses in training will engage in the scramble. Three-year-olds take my fancy at this tire of the year when dropped in with older horses and I am sweet on H. P. Whitney's VICTORIAN. The weight and distance suits this champion money winner of 1928 down to the ground. Can I say more? NASSAK and SUN BEAU figure next best in the order named. Howard Eleven Plays In Baltimore Today

The Howard University Football Team of this city will journey to Baittimore tomorrow for a game with Morgan College at 2:30 o'clock on the latter's field at Hillen road and Arlington avenue.

Coach "Bill" Taylor, of the Baittimore eleven, has been holding early morning as well as afternoon practice to whip his team into shape for a triumph over Howard.

FOURTH QUARTER. On the resumption of play Holley made 5 yards and Cochrane a moment later unged the remaining distance for a touchdown. Holley missed the extra point. Tuscaloosa, 19; Tech, 6.

Fountain received the kick-off and Drissel passed to Benner for 11 yards. Another pass from Drissel to Florance gained 18 more yards, and a 15-yard penalty put the ball on Tuscaloosa's 25-yard line. Tech ad-vanced the ball from its 20-yard line in this drive. Campbell halted the rally, however, b

Campbell haited the rally, however, by intercepting Drissel's pass and ran it back 5 yards. Holley was forced to punt and his effort was partially blocked by Edelblut, but Tuscaloosa regained the ball again when Morgan intercepted a pass from Drissel on his own 10-yard line. Tech held and Holley puntage and again this time from his 10-yard mark to the 35-yard mark. Fountain made 11 yards around left end and Florence went through tackle for 5 more, and then a run by Drissel brought the ball to Tuscaloosa's 12-yard line. Passes failed to bring a touchdown and Tuscaloosa was given the ball after an attempted pass from Drissel to Benner was grounded over the goal line.

UNY.W.N.S.).—Twenty translated thins have been made for the Gadaden D. Bryan Memorial Hands to 6 $30,000 added, for all ages at the model of the Manager James F. O'Hara has arranged as the piece de resistance of the fall meeting and the last of the rich races on the Eastern turf.

The field will include some of the best of the horses in training. Nasea. Chance Play, Victorian, Duplay, Sun Beau and Jock. This afternoon it was announced that if the field and fiftee for under the starting stalls would be used, but if there were more than that number the race would be started from the regular barrier. If fourteen as the post the race will be worth $30,000 to the winner.

the regular barrier. If fourteen a the post the race will be worth $20.000 to the winner.

Earl Sande's Nassak winner of the Prince Georges Autumn Handicapos the opening day of the meeting. It assert to carry off the prize. Nassak will be ridden by George Ellis.

Chance Play, Display, Sun Beau and Victorian are functed most of the others. Should Display win—be assecond to Cloudland last year—be will go into second place in the list of leading money winners on the American turf, and should Victorian win be will come close to High Strung as the leading money winner of the season. However, Victorian pulled up sightly lame after his race on Thursday.

In the draw for post positions. Chance Play has the rail and Nassak the outside. Display is near the outside and this will help him.

Eddie Barnes has announced his retirement from the saddle for the balance of the year. Barnes perked his tack and pulled out for Havesstraw. N. Y., where he will rest up until January I, when he will leave for New Orleans. During the past season. Barnes rode something like 400 horses. He resis as though he is growing stale and needs a rest.

John I. Day, the moving spirit in the revival of racing in Miami, stopped of at Bowie this afternoon. He is on his way to Miami to arrange some of the details which come previous to the opening of a big race meetine. Day reports that a special train will pull out for Miami at the conclusion of the racing here. Some 600 stall reservations have been made at the Hisleach track.

William McKinney, who was held up and beaten by a band of thugs at Benning on Tuesday night, was a visi-tor at Bowie this afternoon. McKinney suffered an ugly scalp wound as a re-sult of being struck on the head with the butt end of a gun.

James Healy, Jr., who is looking after-the preparation of Mrs. Kaufman's 2-year old, Twink, brought the colt over-from Benning this morning and sent-him one mile as part of his prep for the Endurance Stake.

Bannockburn, Manor Announce Thanksgiving Programs.

THANKSGIVING DAY goining programs were announced yesterday by the Beaver Dam and Bannockburn Clubs. The Beaver Dam schedule is quite extensive, including competition for the President's Cup, 18 holes, medal play, handicap allowance. There also will be a turkey tournament, a handicap affair, with live turkeys as the prizes. Driving contests for men and women will be staged at 4 o'clock, followed immediately by putting contests for men and women. The committee in charge consists of M. H. Maier, chairman; J. Harry Byrne, secretary; William H. White, David O. Morris, G. B. James, Bussell M. Brown and Thomas N. Beavers.

At the Bannockburn Club there will be a ball sweepstakes, 18 holes.

Harbert Macey was last night pre-

Herbert Macey was last night presented with the championship trophy of the Manor Club at a stag dinner held at the clubhouse, with more than 200 members participating. Robert C. Hird, son of Commander H. B. Hird, U. S. N., was awarded the medal for low score in the qualifying round, while the winners and runners-up in the various flights were also the recipients of prizes.

At the conclusion of the presentation a program, arranged by Earl Carbaugh, was rendered by a number of screen and radio artists from New York. The entire affair was under the direction of C. M. Hester, chalrman of the entertainment committee.

Owing to the fact that a cold northwest wind swept across the Indian Spring course yesterday afternoon, the annual golf tournament of the Barristers Club did not attract a large field. In addition, the players were so late fin starting that only a few were able to complete the round. Consequently, there were no prize winners, although when the golfers gathered in the clubhouse all of them scored eagles on the nineteenth hole.

Hartfords Win Game

The Hartfords won their first game in the Boys' Club Senior League last night when they defeated the Standards 28 to 22.

The shooting of Streets featured. The Ceitics are leading the league with three victories and no defeats. The Standards and De Luxe have each won and lost 2 games. The Centennisis have won 1 of 2 while the Hartfords have won 1 of 3.

"On the Whole Much Better," Says One About Reallocation - Most Readers, However, Continue Reception Criticism.

By ROBERT D. HEINL.

The end of the first two weeks' tria of the new reallocation of radio wave lengths still finds many Post readers tisfied with the local situation Their complaints have been pouring in almost faster than they could be woll is O. K. in daytime. wBaL sharper. WRC cuts out easy but growls with KDKA. WMAL dominates the dial," G. R. Beers, 310 C street northwest. "It was fine before, but now I do not get WRC at all, except faintly. I get WMAL on my one-tube set, whereas, I used to get WRC and got WMAL only faintly. As it is I get no service from WRC."

Miss Anna M. Priestley, 1448 Girah. W. Schoening, 4613 Georgia avenue northwest. "Reception of WRC very poor, fades, much noise and not clear. Formerly had good results," H. W. Schoening, 4613 Georgia avenue northwest. "Before the change, reception was perfect. Now WRC is very weak. WMAL is loud but not clear."

Mrs. F. J. Marble, Burlington Hotel. "Every station takes twice as much power now as it used to take." C. Earl Grantham, 3624 Connecticut avenue.

"Stations along Atlantic Seaboard crowded, when one-third of the dial is empty." D. L. Myers, 3002 Tenth street northeast. "Not so good, by half," B. B. Clark. "Very unsatisfactory now. WMAL interferes almost all the time with other stations in the background. No one program sustained for any length of time," Miss Cora Van Sant, 4617 interferes almost all the time with other stations in the background. No one program sustained for any length of time," Miss Cora Van Sant, 4817 Conduit road northwest.

"Can now only receive three distant stations well, where before I logged 37," J. H. Parker, 3618 Connecticut avenue. "New radio set installed on November 5. Heard perfectly local stations, New York stations, Schenectady, Cincinnati, Nashville, Detroit, Buffalo, Baltimore and now can get only WRC and WMAL, very faint and indistinct. No more use of radio." Mrs. Thomas R. Shepard, 1882 Ontario road northwest. "I have a crystal set and the new wave length has cleared up the interference but WRC comes in very unsatisfactorily." Miss Myrle Soeth, 705 Eighteenth street northwest. "Plenty of volume on all stations, but very mushy," Joseph L. Shepley, 3610 Patterson street northwest. "Why can not WRC be moved to about 830 kilocycles?" C. C. Hepner, 3507 Twentieth street northeast.

"On the whole, much better. From my standpoint WMAL gives more trouble than any other station. It should have been given a much lower frequency, say around 500 kilocycles. It now interferes somewhat with WEAF. It have a first-class set," Albert A. McEntee. 1804 Thirty-seventh street northwest. "Can not get WJSV. It is not so good as before," Mrs. Charles Laschalt, 1200 Irving street northwest. "Takes more power and all kinds of interference." Irene C. Westerman, 2700 Q street northwest. "Feel that the new allocation has materially reduced clear receptions," Victor Hoffman, 1717 R street northwest. "Would like to see WJSV on a higher wave length. Could not get them before, just about get them now Have a six-tube set." Henry Wenz, 143 Eleventh street northeast.

"Far worse. WRC quality harsh and thin; deficient in lower tones; overloading marked." A. V. Fuller, 3100 Connecticut avenue. "WMAL takes up from 60 to 80 on my dial and can not get anything around there while WMAL is.on." H. T. Carter, 209 A street southeast. "WMAL is now good and free from interference as WRC was." W. I. J. B. Cady, 7064 Eastern avenue, Takons Park, D. C. "Until the reallocation we always had beautiful, clear, smooth reproduction. Now it is rough and unpleasant," Mrs. George Deering, ir., 1830 R street northwest.

"There is interference on all stations, including WRC," Gordon P. Johnson, 1746 Willard street northwest.

"The reallocation interferes considerably with tuning distant stations. Much better results when they were higher up on the dial. Would help Washington listeners if wave length were between 470 and 480 meters, and move WMAL higher," W. Frech, 4716 Pifth street northwest.

It has been interesting to learn how many boys and girls are collecting autographs. Pupils come up after my talks, bringing a pencil and paper so that I can write my name for them to keep. can write my name for them to keep. So far as possible, I do as they ask: but there are times when I must hurry to speak at another school.

The idea has come to me that I might offer to send my autograph to readers who write me. Before this I have spoken about sending for a leaflet on "Questions and Answers About Europe" or "How to Make a Corner Scraphork"

Scrapbook."

If you want one of those leaflets, write and let me know. Inclose a stamped envelope addressed to yourself. I am going to write my name a thousand times, and shall send an autograph to the first thousand Corner readers who write for a leaflet after this appears.

Address your letter to Uncle Ray, Editorial Room, in care of this news-

Display to Be Especially Interesting for Relics of the Past—Harvard-Yale

Meh still are men and women dames, Trey have not strengthened human frames.

But no inventor can devise
A way to toughen legs and thighs.

Pans will doubtless turn their steps Fans will doubtless turn their steps toward the radio historical exhibit at Lansburgh & Bro. starting Monday. The display begins with relics of the past, such as the first set Marcon last, such as the first set Marcon! past, such as the first set Marconi used, in 1901, when he succeeded in receiving signals for the first time across the Atlantic, his receiving status and the receiving signals for the first time across the Atlantic, his receiving station being in Newfoundland and the transmitter in England. The box kite used by Marconi to support the antenna will also be shown. The developments in America, of Massic, Fessenden, DeForest and others, coming finally to the radioias of the Radio Corporation today will be depicted.

An interesting part of the show will be photo radio, the latest development in radio broadcasting. In the factories turning out radiotrons sit specially trained girls who perform the final test of all tubes before these are packed in cartons for shipment. From raw glass and metal to finished product the tubes pass through over 70 inspections and tests, but this is the final trial, and on it depends the acceptance or rejection of the tube. During this exhibit these radiotrons will be tested on the machine by a girl operator just as is done in the factories before the tubes are packed for shipment.

There will be many other interesting parts of radio on exhibit and all will be under charg, of John H. Clark, the engineer, who will gladly answer any questions of interested visitors as well as explain the general working of the device to all.

The Yale-Harvard football game,

The Yale-Harvard football game, from the Yale Bowl at New Haven, Conn., will be bedadcast at 1:45 o'clock today from WRC.

A request program by the Lucky Strike Orchestra will be broadcast from a Nation-wide network, including WRC, at 10 o'clock tonight. Selections which have been asked for in those A Little Saturday Talk.

BO YOU WANT AN AUTOGRAPH?

Some of my happiest moments come when I speak in schools. I talk about my travels and about the sun, moon and stars.

The way the boys and girls listen, prove that they are interested in those subjects. There are times when you could hear a pin drop.

In some cases the pupils are let our for recess at the time I finish my talk. Then I am sure to have a bodyguard when I walk to the automobile which around to shake hands good-by. Sometimes they run alongside the auto for half a block.

It has been interesting to learn how

She tells me she could never care for anybody else but me, and if she couldn't win me she wants nobody. We expect to be engaged wants nobody. We expect to be engaged in a few months, but now I am puzzled what to do because lately I learned to know her much better and I find she has an unusual temper and a craze for dancing. I take her to dances often so at to satisfy her, but in my opinion I think I'm only spoiling her, as she thinks it's wonderful to be popular. terday's discussion, viz., informatory doubles at Contract, we take up today cases of Auction business doubles which might work better as informatory doubles at Contract.

Suppose a Dealer starts by bidding four of a suit, or that he starts by bidding one, two or three, and after a pass by Second Hand, the Dealer's partner jumps the bid to four. In Auction a double of any four-bid is business; the informatory limitation stopping with three. But in Contract there would be few business doubles of four-bids of a Minor unless the bidding side had a score; and there would be certain cases in which with stream of four-bids of a Minor unless the bidding side had a score; and there would be certain cases in which with stream of the bidding side had a score; and there would be certain cases in which with stream of the bidding side had a score; and there would want to see his perfiner to did not stream to the bidding side had a score; and there would want to see his perfiner to did not stream to the bidding side had a score; and there would want to see his perfiner to did not stream to the stream of t

COMMUNITY CHEST LISTS 38 MEMBERS IN CHARITIES' UNION

Seven Applications Still Pend as Executives Approve 12 More Societies.

OBJECTIVE OF CAMPAIGN MAY EXCEED $1,000,000

John Poole, Bank President, Added to Governing Committee of Group.

Ranks of organization members of the Community Chest were swelled to 38 yesterday, when the executive committee approved applications of twelve bodies which had previously met with the approval of the membership com-mittee. There still remain pending several applications for membership.

The rapid growth of the organization since its founding a short time ago caused Charles J. Bell, chairman of the membership committee. to predict after yesterday's meeting that eventually the membership will be between 45 and 50. He said that this would set a record for the number of organizations united in a chest in a city the size of Washington.

Seven Applications Pending.

Seven Applications Fending.

Seven organizations' applications are atili to be acted upon by the membership committee and the board, and it is expected that action will be taken on these within a short time.

The chest expects to open its drive for a united charity fund for the city ofther late in January or early in February. The sum is expected to exceed $1.000,000, making it the most extensive charity drive ever attempted in the National Capital.

John Poole Is Executive.

The executive committee, which met following the meeting of the member-ship committee yesterday, elected John Poole, president of the Federal-American Bank, a member of the board Raising the salaries of the District Commissioners from $7,500 to $9,000 was "wrong," in the opinion of Senator William H. King (Democrat), of Utah, a member of the Senate District committee.

"If there were any nonorable way in which it could be done." Senator King said yesterday, "I would try and have those raises returned to the Treasury." The Commissioners received their raises through the passage of the Welch bill, which gave pay increases to all persons in the classified service. While it is not generally known, the Commissioners had not a few sarcastic. The senator King made it clear that his opposition to a raise for the Commissioners had nothing to do with his personal opinion of these officials. He said the thought they are very good men and well fitted for their jobs.

"It is my bellef," he said, "that we have gone mad about raising the said said, would save much time and trouble and would make for efficiency and possed to raising the pay of senators."

FIRE TRUCK SPEED LIMIT IS FROWNED

Police Chief Informs District Heads That He Agrees With Watson.

URGES SLOWER RETURN TO STATIONS, HOWEVER

Parley Expected Before Action on Coroner's Jury Plan for Safety.

Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent police, yesterday told the District missioners that he agreed with Fire Chief George S. Watson and Traffic Director William H. Harland that fire apparatus responding to an alarm should not be brought under the restrictions of the traffic code. Speed of apparatus returning from res or alarms was another matter, nowever, Hesse said, and suggested that returning apparatus be not given the freedom that is and should be continued for apparatus responding Although formal action was not

Although formal action was not taken on the question by the Commissioners, it is understood they were in virtual agreement that the present freedom should be continued for apparatus on the way to a fire.

The order sent out to all fire companies several weeks ago by Chief Watson cautioning each company that it should limit its speed to that with which it could travel with safety, and warning that violations of the ordinary traffic regulations might cause confusion among motorists or pedestrians, the Commissioners are said to believe, goes about as far as it is possible to go in that direction.

o in that direction.

Hesse, however, raised another ques Hesse, however, raised another ques-tion in his report, it is said, and that is whether the automobiles of battalion and other chiefs should not be placed under greater restrictions. It is prob-able that Watson and Harland again will be consulted by Commissioner. Proctor L. Dougherty before the Com-missioners finally act on the proposal of the coroner's jury for restriction of the speed of fire apparatus.

New Traffic Signals

Cost Fifteen $5 Each Fifteen motorists arrested for failure yesterday in Traffic Court. The arrests were made Thursday in a police drive to compel obedience to the lights.

Judge Gus A. Schuldt declared he had made a personal inspection of the lights with Lieut. B. A. Lambe, of the Traffic Bureau. The magistrate declared the lights, as far as he could observe, operated satisfactorily and added that recent criticism of the new signals was unjust. A squad of Traffic Bureau patrolmen have been assigned to duty along the boulevard under order to arrest for flagrant violations of the signals.
